Miracle property. That's how missionary Eddie Bowerman describes the Seminario Bautista Libre de Panama in Chame, Panama. Currently valued at nearly $750,000, the Panamanian Association of Free Will Baptists acquired the property in 2006 from New Tribes Missions for the unbelievably low price of $250,000, payable in $50,000 increments over five years. The seminary officially opened for classes in March 2008. Panamanian believers also utilize these spacious facilities for large events such as their national convention.

THIS $20,000 WILL GO TOWARD ANNUAL PAYMENTS FOR THE SEMINARY PROPERTY.

Additional funding is needed for classroom and dining hall furnishings, air conditioning, fans and general maintenance.

They've owned the land since 1992, purchased in part by a generous WNAC gift to the Spain National Loan Fund. But governmental red tape has kept this mission church from building. Now, 15 years later, their dream for a permanent location is being realized. Construction began Christmas Eve 2007. Inflation and the devalued US dollar make financing the project difficult for this congregation of 60. Estimated cost for the initial structure is now $739,000, with projected completion in early 2009. Land and future building legally appraised at 2.3 million dollars, it's an eternal investment for Free Will Baptists and WNAC.

THIS $20,000 WILL GO TOWARD ACTUAL CONSTRUCTION COSTS.

The church also welcomes gifts for additional expenses such as furnishings, architectural fees or finishing the grounds.

Rent increases, rising insurance rates, computer maintenance and day-to-day expenses—it's an ongoing struggle, adjusting the budget, eliminating costs to make ends meet in the WNAC office. Consistent gifts to the general fund and prayers of faith keep the office running. But the present rate of giving does not allow for needed promotional print materials, travel to state or district meetings or future expansion. Funding the WNAC

Endowment would help provide a steady income for the office and give WNAC the opportunity to better minister to women at home, in the church, the community and around the world.

20/WNAC Endowment

THIS $20,000 WILL GO INTO THE WNAC ENDOWMENT, WITH GUARANTEED 5% INTEREST EARNINGS DEPOSITED IN THE WNAC GENERAL FUND.

Since endowment growth occurs over time, WNAC still needs general fund gifts to cover current operational costs and expenses.

BUILDING FOR THE FUTURE: 20/20/20
focuses on expansion.

This two-year effort will help:

—amortize property costs for a burgeoning seminary in Chame, Panama

—finance construction of a long-awaited church facility in Villalba, Spain

—build a funding base to cover operational costs and continue WNAC ministries.

All gifts will be divided equally among the three endeavors.

We're committing ourselves for 20/20/20.

That's
$20,000
to each cause
for a total of $60,000.
